Stony Mountain, Man., April 28.—Ready to take action against all persons involved, prison authorities to-day sought to learn who were the instigators of a riot in the Stony Mountain Penitentiary that lasted for two hours Saturday, and left one convict dead and two injured and extensive damage to penitentiary property.

Howling of 350 convicts in the prison was silenced and prison was pieces had impaled the prisoners.

SEVERAL CHARGES

Charges of disorderly conduct, violent damage, rioting and possession of more serious counts would be laid against several prisoners as result of the riot, said Warden MacLeod. He declined to divulge the names of those who were killed. George Purdy, a convict, and said that would be no suspensions unless warranted by the inquiry of the coroner's jury.

Demonstration over meals and "dry" tobacco, along with general resentment against law and order, has been shown by the convicts previously.

Investigate Riot In Manitoba Prison

Visitors. There were persistent rumors a wholesale delivery of convicts was contemplated, but they could not be confirmed.

TELEPHONE 219
Indication the riot had been planned was seen in a telephone call to a Winnipeg newspaper office shortly before the rioting started. An anonymous caller told the editor to "watch St. John's Mountain Penitentiary." Communication was made with Winnipeg immediately, but all was quiet within half an hour the riot was in full swing.

Two hours after the telephone call George S. Forsythe, twenty-eight, a convict, was dead, windows and machinery smashed and furniture destroyed. Two other convicts were

RELIEF STRIKE AT EDMONTON

Pickets and Police Out in Force; No Work Done To-day

Edmonton, April 28.—Pickets and police were out in force early this morning as a strike of relief workers, called in an effort to gain a 15 per cent increase in food allowances, cash relief and other concessions, went into effect without any show of violence.

Eighty-five relief recipients instructed to report to-day for five days' work failed to show up. All of these have received their allowances for the week, so no disciplinary action can be taken against them in the way of stopping relief for that time.

At the main city station, the chief points of congregation for relief workers, only one man reported for work. He was met outside the gates by strikers and was quickly persuaded to leave.

POLICE TELL OF NEW THREATS

Canadian Press
Corbin, B.C., April 28.—Threats to "wipe us out" have been received by British Columbia police stationed in Corbin during the coal miners' strike and the riot of April 27, according to Inspector J. Macdonald, in charge of the police detachment.

Inspector Macdonald stated to-day the threats had come from Blaine, Alberta, a prominent mining centre with a left-wing civic administration.

"We expect no May Day disturbance at Corbin unless it comes from across the line in Alberta," he said.

The police, he added, were ready for any emergency, with forty-five British Columbia officers in the Corbin area and a detail of Royal Canadian Mounted Police standing by.

Soviet Government Denies Mutual Assistance Pact With France Private

Associated Press
Moscow, April 28.—The Soviet government took steps to-day to allay any fears that the Franco-Russian mutual assistance pact would be set up outside the League of Nations and thereby strike a blow to the prestige of the Geneva organization.

Assurance was given in an official communiqué that the treaty might render would depend on the decision of the League Council.

Many League supporters had viewed the possibility of an independent agreement with uneasiness, especially because it is likely to be followed by a whole network of mutual assistance pacts modeled along similar lines.

Observers here are expressing the opinion the accord may actually add to the strength and prestige of the League.

The communiqué said France and Russia have been in agreement on the League Council provision from the beginning of their negotiations.

The statement denied press reports that differences had arisen over the Russian demand that military assistance in case of aggression, against either party be automatic.

VANCOUVER ISLAND'S FLOWERS

LAST WEEK ONE OF VANCOUVER
Island's most attractive assets, its floral wealth, was exhibited here under the auspices of the Vancouver Island Horticultural Association. The entire week was devoted to this annual spring show, the programme consisting of visits to private gardens, the owners of twenty-nine places public spiritedly co-operating for the purpose, the whole culminating in an exhibition at the Willows.

In general, this flower week was conducted on a larger scale than it has been in any other year. More private gardens were opened to the public, and while the entries in the exhibition were less than they were last year in number the exhibits themselves were more extensive. The scene in the Horse Show Building on Friday and Saturday was very impressive, the walls being banked with one of the most beautiful floral displays ever made here, not only in the quality of the exhibits but also in the ingenuity with which they were prepared.

The Vancouver Island Horticultural Association should be congratulated upon its fine work in encouraging the cultivation of flower gardens, not only for the pleasure the cultivators derive but for the effective advertisement of the climate and fertility of the island which arises from it. Love of flowers, like love of music, literature and art, has no international boundary lines. It is the common heritage of all people. It is one of the touches of nature which makes the whole world kin.

Incidentally, it might be pointed out that Vancouver Island has no attraction which appeals to visitors more directly than its floral wealth, in proof whereof we merely need to point to the fact that the gardens of Mr. and Mrs. Butchart still remain our most appealing attraction. To tourists beautiful gardens are irresistible, and this applies to industrial magnates and modest artisans alike. On many counts, these residents who opened their gardens for inspection by the public and the various individuals, organizations and districts who contributed to the show at the Willows, rendered real substantial service to the whole island community.

THE WORLD MOVES ON

for women conference in the former harem of the sultan of Turkey is a striking sign of the times. Women from forty-two countries have convened at the Yildiz Palace in Istanbul. Istanbul used to be Constantinople and the Yildiz Palace used to be the seraglio in which the sultan's ladies were kept under lock and key; to locate a feminist conference there, of all places on earth, is about equal to convening a disarmament conference in one of the Krupp factories. But for that very reason the incident deserves something more in the way of attention than a casual joke or two.

It symbolizes one way, at least, in which the world has managed to make some very definite progress during the last quarter century. It is probably true that modern civilization has declined somewhat since the pre-war decade; but in this one instance it has made a decided advance.

Suppose, for example, that we go back to 1906 or 1907. Nothing could have seemed less likely than that the fight for feminine equality would sweep clear into the sultan's harem at any time in the near future. Even in England and America, the feminist was a person distrusted and ridiculed by ordinary folk, and her fight had barely begun.

Only the most light-headed of optimists would have predicted a victory in Turkey inside of one generation.

But the world does move, and it sometimes has a way of moving a great deal faster than anyone dares to predict. The fact is symbolized by this convention in Turkey's one-time harem and in it there is a hopeful or two of hope for a discouraged world.

Just now such things as democracy, liberty, and peace look to be in a very bad way. They have been taking their knocks ever since 1914, and it sometimes looks as if one more wallop would finish all three for keeps.

But human history is an incalculable thing, and it can move in most unexpected ways to confound the pessimists. After all, the past generation has turned the palace of the Russian czar into a workers' museum, and the seraglio of the Turkish sultan into a convention hall for feminists.

Is one being altogether too hopeful to suspect that the next generation may bring equally surprising changes?

WHISTLE TO KEEP UP COURAGE

A SPEAKER AT A MEETING OF WARD
Three of the local Conservative Association on Friday night said the party to which he belongs is proud of the record of the administration given by the government under the leadership of Rt. Hon. R. B. Bennett.

The gem of the speaker's address, however, is the following, as reported by The Colonist: "While it has been the habit of political leaders to offer much to the public before election, but to give little after election, we have an example of real statesmanship offered us by Mr. Bennett, who says that regardless of success at election, the people of this country shall have those legislative measures leading to reform, which these times require, before he appeals to the country."

The speaker no doubt, was talking with his tongue in his cheek, for he would have required only a minute's reflection to realize the absurdity of his statement.

In the summer of 1930, Mr. Bennett went about the country telling the people that if they would elect him, he would end unemployment or "perish in the attempt." At that time there were less than 120,000 idle persons in the Dominion. There are now approximately 700,000 persons out of work and more than a million on relief in one form or another. In addition to this there is a relief camp situation which, to say the least, is a menace to ordered society.

This tabulation of a Maritime newspaper's reminder of what Mr. Bennett promised in the summer of 1930 makes interesting reading:

1. Provide a home market for all agricultural products.
2. Give agriculture a chance formerly denied.
3. Build the St. Lawrence waterways.
4. Construct railway outlet from Peace River to the Pacific Ocean.
5. Pay old age pensions from the federal treasury.
6. Improve and enlarge the Hudson's Bay route and terminals.
7. Build a transcanada national highway.
8. Take over development of ports and harbors as a national undertaking.
9. Build immense bridges at St. John and Halifax and wherever else they may be needed.
10. Stop the entry of foreign coal to Canada.
11. Stop the export from Canada of any raw natural products.
12. Create a favorable trade balance at once.
13. Put an end to all Canadian emigration to U.S. and bring back all Canadians to Canada.
14. Cut out the British preference until Britain meets his terms of "preference for preference."
15. Put up a tariff wall around Canada: (a) protection of natural resources; (b) protection for farmers; (c) protection for industry; (d) protection for the consumer.
16. Foster and develop the livestock and dairy industries.
17. Stabilize economic conditions.
18. Develop interprovincial trade.
19. Develop the coal resources of Canada.
20. Improve transportation northward in Canada.
21. Immediately increase the subsidies to the Maritimes.
22. Make compensating adjustments so as to ensure the benefits of all the foregoing to every part of Canada and "give Canada a chance."

Never let it be forgotten, by the way, that Mr. Bennett promised to "blast" his way into the markets of the world. He began his "blasting" process when he went to London in 1930. He laid down the law there; but it did not do Canada any good. Indeed, instead of "blasting" our way into the markets of the world, Mr. Bennett has "blasted" our way out of most of them.

The young man who spoke to local Conservatives last Friday night had better make up his mind to the fact that Mr. Bennett is a spent force. Perhaps the Prime Minister is reconciled to his fate.

APPARENTLY NOT INTERESTED

THERE SHOULD BE A SHARP INVESTIGATION of our penitentiary system. It is plain that something is radically wrong.

Kingston seems to be a hot-bed of unrest. Some of it may be traced to inmates who are perverse out of pure cussedness. But surely there are prisoners there figuratively eating their hearts out because they have no real reason to feel that if they could get decent treatment they would become law-abiding citizens.

Consider a dispatch from Ottawa to-day, of which the following is a part: "A week-end riot at Stony Mountain Penitentiary (in Manitoba) brought no official comment last night, as Minister of Justice Hugh Guthrie was out of town. . . authorities at Stony Mountain were instructed to issue details of the disturbance in which one convict was wounded fatally and several others slightly hurt."

The taxpayers of Canada have to pay for the maintenance of Canada's prisons, but a week-end riot at Stony Mountain "brought no official comment."

LETTER WRITERS

ALMOST EVERY DAY THIS NEWS.
A paper prints at the head of its correspondence columns the conditions on which contributions will be permitted to appear in type. These conditions are that no letter must exceed six hundred words, that it must be written plainly on one side of newspaper, that it must be accompanied by the name and address of the writer, not necessarily for publication but as a guarantee of good faith.

Notwithstanding these conditions, letters which disregard them in one way or another continue to come in considerable volume. Some of those which are excessive in length no doubt contain interesting comment, but they would gain in interest if they were condensed. Those which are unaccompanied by the names and addresses of the writers are thrown into the waste paper basket and eventually ignominiously consigned to the furnace without even being read. A similar fate meets those which are illegible or are written on two sides of newspaper. Only a small proportion reaches the editorial desk.

Brief topical contributions to the correspondence columns are welcomed by all newspapers. They form a fairly good reflection of public sentiment on the important problems of the day. The shorter they are the more widely are they read. The form in which they come is less important than the views they express. Every editor knows that much of the best thinking is shown by letters in a newspaper's correspondence column is done by contributors of limited educational background, and sound, independent and original thought, without regard to the vehicle in which it is conveyed, is the world's most urgent need.

WHAT OTHER PAPERS SAY

RABBITS FOR GASOLINE
The Brockville Recorder

It is reported from Melbourne that the Minister of Customs of the Commonwealth has strongly supported a plan under which Australia would rid itself of 5,000,000 rabbits in exchange for Russian gasoline. Under the proposal, these millions of frozen rabbits, caught by 100,000 young men throughout the country, would be shipped to Russia for consumption as food in return for which Russia would send several cargoes of gasoline to the Antipodes.

A PRINCIPALLY CONSERVATIVE
The Toronto Globe

The farmers who are the Prince of Wales' tenants in his dual capacity in Cornwall will receive this—this jubilee year—a gift of 10 per cent of their spring rent. One thousand estate employees will be paid an extra week's wages.

The heir to the throne of the empire is making royalty certain that there will be real jubilee rejoicing in the west country.

Loose Ends

They had their tea and their trouble in April, 1935—just as we have in April, 1935—what with the both of them—The madness of women—The Thistlewaytes' divorce—Mr. Carlton's binder belts—and two ducks in Madrid.

By BRUCE HUTCHINGS

SOME YEARS AGO

YOU PROBABLY won't be interested in this column, but I will. Some amazing fellow of the last century is going to write it for me and I think they will do a good job. I am stealing their stuff out of The Whitehall Review, of April 19, 1935, just fifty-seven years ago, which a local collector of antiquities has kindly loaned to me. Such current prints, I always think, give you a better glimpse of old times, and better intimations of our own mortality than all the history books. Also, they show you that things don't really change much, except the gutter crust of them, and that we are always pretty absurd at any period in history.

For example, this editorial, entitled "Lord Derby's Clean Breast," might well have been written by some unscrupulous Liberal editor of these times about Mr. Harry Stevens, or about half the provincial cabinet members of Victoria in the last twenty years.

"The mortality of a section of our public must have fallen to zero, or the House of Lords would never have been outraged by Lord Derby's apostrophe of Monday night. The doctrine enforced by that nobleman, who is the enemy of Schouvaloff and the admirer of Gortchakoff, amounts to this—that a Cabinet Minister is justified in holding his portfolio whilst discharging, toto corde, from the policy of his colleagues; that it is not dishonourable on his part to thwart them by every expedient at his command; and that when the inevitable deadlock occurs, he exhibits vast consideration for everybody by adhering like a dog to the seals of office."

"This, however, is a magnificent and ungenerous as it is, may be passed over as a mere ebullition of a capricious and tasteless man. We cannot, however, so easily forget Lord Derby's next contention, viz. that if we do not fear Russia we at least should fear Germany. A more unpatriotic assertion has never been made in the House of Lords. Why, in the name of honor and England, should we, who, according to French ethnologists, are destined to be all masters of the world and to enforce the language of Shakespeare on all lands, how-low to Kaiser or to Bismarck? . . . What care we for his Krupp guns, his Rhine and his Landwehr? There will none of them."

Also, when would the editors of The Review think if they could see the civilian population of Britain, the hearing was given against the hearing of German airships that unfortunately will float?

PIN MONEY

BUT THERE were graver problems than Lord Derby's "Clean Breast." There was, in equally large headlines, the "Problem of Pin-Money," wherein it is stated that "An attempt to control the appetite of women must inevitably fail since 'Crescit indiguitas sibi dicitur hydrops' (At least the modern newspaper editorial spares you the Latin quotations). And in truth, the thirst after dress, and yet more and more extravagant dress, which prompts women of the world sometimes to dare and do anything in order to obtain the gratification her soul lusteth after, can only be compared to the raging thirst engendered by dropsy. Moreover, when the all-consuming topic of raiment comes on the tapis, saints and sinners are alike oblivious of the absolute value of the goods, desired, still less of their relative cost. In England clothes are a matter of competition. Lady Jane Dice imagines, because she can evolve six changes of raiment to young Mrs. Leckland's one, that, therefore, she is justified in plying, i.e. in tramping her feet, whereas all this superfluous compassion might well be reserved for her own completion, which suggests a permanent ennoblement of the military services." (Ah, the refinement and good looks of the Victorian Age, in such contrast to our present vulgarity.)

THISTLEWAYTES

HOWEVER, the problem of pin-money had just led to a serious scandal in the divorce suit of Mr. Thistlewayte and his wife in which the judge ruled that if a man has an income of £25,000 per annum, and marries a wife whose sole heritage is a stock of personal attractions, he is bound to allow her for apparel a sum exceeding £300 per annum, i.e., more than one-fourth of his gross income.

That ruling, no doubt, is still sound British law and would be upheld on appeal to the Privy Council. Reduced to modern terms, it means that a fellow who makes $5,000 a year must allow his wife only $50 a year for clothes. It may be useful to you to remember the historic victory of Mr. Thistlewayte in the great legal battle over pin-money.

There were other serious problems in England of April 19, 1935. Thus "what with those abominable peasant steamrollers, the manufacture of tarry pavement in the streets, and the railway bridges spanning main thoroughfares, we shall soon be unable to ride or drive anywhere with safety." They are making exactly the same complaint about traffic in London now.

HORSES

IT WAS something still more serious:

"The inadequacy of the supply of good, sound horses throughout the United Kingdom, and the consequent high prices ruling, have for some time engaged the serious attention of the Public and Parliament. The demand for horses, naturally increasing, whilst the supply of home-bred horses cannot for many years, if ever, meet the demand."

"To remedy this scarcity by drawing upon the unlimited supplies which exist in America and Canada," the British Empire Horse Supply Association Limited, for importing horses into England and offers shares in the corporation to the public at 25 each "under the distinguished patronage of Noblemen and Gentlemen."

BINDER BELTS

THEY hadn't yet invented that superb term, "foundation garment," but they were getting pretty wise, even in 1850. Thus we find "Carlson's Binder Belts" advertised with two pictures of ladies, whose waists would make a wasp envious. "Carlson's Binder Belts" (registered) are for improving the figure; also for preventing and reducing stoutness. (As supplied to the Royal Courts of Europe). To ladies inclined to embonpoint. To ladies who have this charming word-garb of the language in these modern days of fatness, helplessness and ineffectuality. Carlson's Binder Belts are invaluable, as they brace up, support and at the same time reduce the figure.

SCANDAL

AND THEY had their intriguing village scandals in those days, too. Listen to this one: "What cannot money do? Another youngster, not unconnected with the Bar, has married a lady once very much connected with another description of bar, whose charms, some flitting years ago, carried captive the flickering affections of a septuagenarian M.P., who transferred the lady from the little parlor in Jermyn Street to the altar in St. George's, Hanover Square."

He survived but a brief period the responsibilities of marriage, and left a blooming widow with £100,000 and an unfettered heart. Ah, serjeant! I can find out the identity of the serjeant but I cannot get the lady and the half million dollars.

And here was another shocking occurrence: "What are we all about? Another divorce on the tapis, and another actor the tetrarcha cause of the domestic fiasco."

ONLY TWO

IN MADRID that week, because it was Lent, there were only two ducks. In one of them a certain Carlton, having never touched a sabre before, was wounded in the face by Count de Xiquena and "is still suffering from fever." The other was somewhat less

BASKETBALL BROADCAST
To the Editor:—I wonder if any one of the many who were following the play by play description of the basketball game Tuesday night noticed that some sportsman expressed his private opinion over the air on the outcome of the game to another private individual, presumably in Vancouver, whilst the game was actually in progress.

Many of your readers will agree that this is poor sportsmanship. And that this is poor sportsmanship. And that this is poor sportsmanship.

This broadcast was supposed to give a description of the game to the followers of basketball.

The citizens here and back east are not interested in his private opinions. They and we want the facts.

ISLAND ROADS
To the Editor:—The dust menace on a considerable portion of our Island Highway is a perfect disgrace. Those responsible for allowing the surface of these stretches of the highway to remain so long in their present condition should do the job or get off it.

THE DUST ON THE RECENT TOURIST
Trade Caravan to Manama was so bad that at times the "fog" completely obliterated approaching cars. If present conditions continue all the road surface for miles will be wasted into the air to settle elsewhere. Talk about the mid-west dust storm!—we have them on Vancouver Island. The dust on roads or motor vehicle administration: Our government has no moral right to hypocritize these moneys to other purposes.

We should not continue to tolerate the present condition of our highways. Every cent taken from the motorists in gas and motor taxes should be spent on roads or motor vehicle administration: Our government has no moral right to hypocritize these moneys to other purposes.

Wake up, Vancouver Island!

HEPBURN AND POWER CONTRACTS
To the Editor:—Some days ago you had an article in your paper agreeing with Premier Hespburn's repudiation of Ontario power contracts. To-day you have another on similar lines. I am much surprised that you should have expressed such views. Mr. Hespburn, recently complained of the way his policy was viewed in Great Britain, saying Great Britain herself had repudiated her debts to the United States (and thereby implying that his action was "repudiation"), but, in any case, two blacks do not make a white. You say that only a small percentage of the power plants contemplated are held in Great Britain, meaning, I suppose, that as the percentage is so small that it does not matter much that those people are

"TROUBLED WITH CONSTIPATION" FOR PAST 25 YEARS"Then ALL-BRAN Brought Welcome Relief

Read this voluntary letter from Mr. Lecour: "I have been troubled with constipation for the past 25 years. I tried practically every cathartic without results."

"Recently, I determined to give Kellogg's ALL-BRAN a fair trial. Kellogg's ALL-BRAN has not only helped me, but I believe it is an actual relief for chronic constipation."—Mr. Henry E. Lecour. Address upon request.

"Due to insufficient 'bulk' in stool."

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN provides "bulk" to aid elimination. It also contains vitamins B and iron.

"The 'bulk' in ALL-BRAN is gentle and safe for normal individuals. Often more effective than 'bulk' in fruits and vegetables, as it does not break down within the body."

Isn't this natural food pleasanter than patent medicines? Just eat two tablespoons daily. Chronic cases, with each meal. If not relieved, see your doctor.

Get the red-and-green package at your grocer's. Made by Kellogg in London, Ontario.

New York Paper Publishes Secret Testimony in Child Guardianship Case

Associated Press
New York, April 28.—A story told on camera to Supreme Court Justice Charles Evans Hughes, in the case of the first time a New York newspaper printed portions of hitherto secret testimony in the Gloria Vanderbilt case.

Mrs. Gloria Vanderbilt, who has appealed Justice Evans' decision depriving her of full custody of her daughter, said she was glad to see the account made public.

"I'd like to see it all printed," she told The News. "As to my mother, Mrs. Laura C. Morgan—well, as I have said before, she is still my mother. I cannot comment on her peculiar point of view. Let the testimony speak for itself."

The testimony of Mrs. Morgan, as now disclosed, included an account of a night in 1928 when she testified she saw her daughter and Prince Gottfried von Hohenlohe together.

"If I had remembered at anything she had done at any time during her infatuation with the prince, she would have shown me the door right then and there, and I would have left my poor, unfortunate little daughter all alone. I was there to protect the baby," Mrs. Morgan told the court.

The "baby"—now eleven years old—Gloria Vanderbilt, and the court action is an effort by Mrs. Gloria Vanderbilt (the mother) to obtain full custody of the child, who is believed to be a victim of the late Prince's infatuation with her.

NEWBURY-CAMPBELL
At the Church of Our Lord Free Church of England, on Saturday evening at 8.30 o'clock, the marriage was solemnized of Miss Mary Campbell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Campbell, 1212 Douglas Road, and Mr. Cooper William Newbury, only son of Mrs. G. Newbury, Coquitlam, and of the late Mr. Newbury, for many years federal collector of customs.

The church was prettily decorated with Oregon-greys, delphiniums, and lilies for the ceremony, which was performed by the rector, Rev. A. de B. Owen in the presence of relatives and intimate friends. Mr. H. Davis presided at the organ. As the register was being signed, Mrs. P. Shandley sang "Devotion" by Haydn Wood.

Mr. Campbell gave his daughter away. She wore a white satin gown, with veil and orange blossoms, and carried a bouquet of pale pink roses and lilies of the valley. The only bridesmaid was Miss Dorothy Marshall, who was dressed in pale pink, and carried a bouquet of mauve sweet peas. The best man was Mr. Elmore Ouzd, nephew of the groom, and the ushers were Mr. Roland Campbell, and the bride's brother, and Mr. Norton Anderson.

An informal reception was held after the service in the Bishop Criddle Memorial Hall, which was prettily decorated with flowers arranged by the members of the Rector's Club, of which the bride and groom are members. The happy couple stood beneath a floral archway and large wedding bells received greetings of their friends. Supper was served from a table centred with the three-tiered cake.

Mr. and Mrs. Newbury left at midnight aboard the Es. Ruth Alexander for a honeymoon in California, and will return by motor, and take up residence in the Cooper Apartments, Menzies Street.

New York Giants Pull Further Ahead In National League Race

Hal Schumacher Allows One Hit To Defeat Phils

Robbed of Perfect Game By Scratch Single; Brooklyn Walloped By Boston

Detroit Tigers Whip Cleveland

The uncertainties of baseball seldom have been better illustrated than in the current American League race. In less than two weeks of campaigning the Cleveland Indians and St. Louis Browns have run true to form, the Indians by racing to the top of the standing and the Browns by sliding to seventh place. The others, however, have been taking part in a round of ups and downs.

The slump of Detroit's champion Tigers, who tumbled to the cellar only to climb to sixth place yesterday by defeating Cleveland 5 to 3, for the second time in the season, is just one example.

The Boston Red Sox, who sailed to first place at the start, continued their tumble in the second division as they made three more errors for a total of sixteen in four games, wasted a lot of hits and took a 6 to 3 beating from the Washington Senators.

Chicago's Sox, another big surprise, continued their heavy sliding to challenge Cleveland's lead when they were defeated 6 to 3 by the New York Yankees.

The New York Yankees maintained their third place by defeating the Philadelphia Athletics 7 to 5, largely because of Earl Combs' homer with the bases full.

The New York Giants, who took the National League lead Saturday, pulled their share of surprises when they blanked the Philadelphia Phillies 5 to 0 on Hal Schumacher's perfect game.

The Seattle Indians, who were leading the Pacific Coast league, were defeated 5 to 3 by the Los Angeles Angels.

With the score 4 all in the first half of the tenth, the Reds collected five hits for three runs when "Curly" Garland blew up. In the afternoon the Angels came back to drive Hollis Thurston out of the box in the third inning after scoring seven runs.

Seattle and Oakland divided their double header, the Indians taking the first game, 12 to 6, and the Angels coming back to take the second, 3 to 2. Home runs by Art Hunk Bill Lawrence and left fielder Michael of Seattle and by Leroy Anton, Acorn first sacker, were chalked up in the upper, and by Anton and Eddie Taylor, Seattle infielder, in the second.

Displaying better form than at any other time thus far in the season, the San Francisco Seals garnered both games from Hollywood, 5 to 0 and 2 to 1. The pitching of Jimmy Densmore, aided by brilliant infielding, was largely responsible for blanking the Stars in the opener.

Gorman Gets New Contract

Montreal, April 28.—The success of Tommy Gorman in piloting the Montreal Maroons of the National Hockey League to the Stanley Cup championship earned him a five-year contract as Maroons' manager to-day with an option of renewal for another five years.

The fall in Ottawa's popularity was caused by the fact that the team lost the Stanley Cup title in the spring of 1934, but continued as Maroons' manager and president of the club, as well as general manager of the team. It was announced to-day by Thomas Arnold, vice-president of the Canadian Amusement Company.

Terms of the new contract signed by Gorman were not announced.

COUNT TAKES ANOTHER BOUT

Clever Wrestlers Again Feature Good Card at Tillikum

Another exhibition between two of the finest wrestlers, Victoria has seen, featured the Tillikum show Saturday when Count George Zaryoff met Mike Strick again and beat him two falls to one.

As on the previous meeting the pair showed more holds and ways of breaking them than seen in a score of ordinary bouts. Their clever, clean work produced outbreaks of applause.

Strick got the first fall in the third round with a body slam. He was set for a slam in the next round to which he failed, but the count turned him a cut and clamped on a head scissor to even the contest. In the fifth the count got the best of a double flip.

Count George of Santa Monica got the best over Pat Kelly of Boston in the main event. Kelly tried plenty of rough stuff to turn the tide in his favor, but the count turned him a cut and clamped on a head scissor to even the contest. In the fifth the count got the best of a double flip.

PAINE MISSES

Payne had a good chance to score for Victoria but shot wide on a pass from Bell, when he had no one to beat but the Royals' goalie. Payne made a fine shot at the goal and goal but Stewardson dived full length and pushed the ball round the post. Half-time came with no score.

In less than a minute after the restart, Westminster took a corner when Ashew pass him and Stewardson tapped it into the net. Shortly after a wonderful piece of anticipation enabled De Costa to save a header from Turner.

Payne drove a hard shot toward the Royals' goal and, although a defender deflected the ball, it slipped by Stewardson into the net to give Victoria the Equilizer.

In the next minute the Victoria outside left had a good chance to put his team in the lead but tried to shoot too hard and just grazed the bar. Morgan drove in a hard shot but the Royals' goalie saved it on his knees.

The Royals then began to press hard. A centre from Rimmer struck the angle of the post and bar and dropped to De Costa, who cleared it. Turner then got the ball and drove in a hard shot but the Victoria goalie saved it on his knees.
